

It is said by Herbert Gladstone that five-sixths of the Irish people are followers of Parnell.

$8,000,000 were expended in the construction of new buildings in Boston, during the year just passed.

SPEAKER CARLISLE was unable to announce his committee on Tuesday as was expected, but will have them ready for to-day.

MR. C. H. BRUCE, assistant postmaster at Chesler, S. C., has secured a position in the House of Representatives in Washington.

A BILL has been favorably reported from the committee on postoffices and post roads, prohibiting the mailing of newspapers and other publications containing lottery advertisements.

SENATOR VANCE has introduced a bill in the Senate to abolish the civil service commission. The Senator evidently believes in the maxim that to the victors belong the spoils.

The Washington Star has figured out the fact that $80,000,000 were paid out during the first week in January as dividends upon money invested by the people of the United States.

The reports of R. G. Dun & Co.'s Mercantile Agency, show the largest number of failures the first week of the year, than for a year past. Most of the failures have been in the Southern States.

The Virginia House of Delegates has appointed a committee to inquire into the cost of building a new State House. If it should be decided to build a new one it is proposed that it shall be made of granite quarried in the State by convicts.

THERE have been 14,000 fourth-class postmaster appointed since the 4th of last March. When we consider the fact that all of these appointments had to be closely scrutinized by the department we at once conclude that the parties in charge have not been idle.

BILLS have been introduced in Congress providing for the erection of monuments to commemorate General Grant and Mr. Abraham Lincoln. They are to cost one million dollars, and are to be situated on the north and the east square of the capital.

O'HARA, the colored member of Congress from North Carolina, has introduced a bill to reimburse the depositors of the Freedmen's Savings Bank. A leading exchange remarks that the bill should pass by the votes of Southern Democrats.

It is stated that an effort will be made in the Legislature of Mississippi to amend the constitution to provide for a constitutional convention. Under the present constitution the judiciary is filled by appointment. The object of the convention will be to change this power of appointment.

THERE was a destructive fire in Aiken on the 10th inst., by which four stores and a number of other buildings were consumed. The engine was frozen up and could not be worked until the fire had been at headway for an hour. Assistance was telegraphed from Augusta and was promptly responded to. The total loss will not exceed $20,000.

THERE was a very destructive fire in Union last Tuesday morning, which destroyed a number of business houses with their contents. The entire loss amounts to about thirty thousand dollars, with nearly two-thirds insurance. This is a severe loss to our sister town, but we hope that it will tend to increase the prosperity of her people and nerve them to greater progress.

It is said that there is talk in Washington of organizing a new party to be composed of revenue reformers from both parties, and that one of the leaders of tariff reform has written a private letter to Washington urging such action by all those in favor of a reduction of the tariff. We think the Democrats had better be satisfied just now. A reduction in the tariff is bound to come sooner or later without a split in the old party, and only a little patience is needed.

At a recent meeting of the Charleston Presbytery resolutions were adopted by a vote of 18 to 2 declaring Dr. Woodward an unfit man, on account of his evolution theories, for a professorship in the Theological Seminary in Columbia. Another resolution was adopted directing the young men now pursuing their studies in the Seminary and under the care of that Presbytery to withdraw from the Seminary. A strong protest against the action of the Presbytery has been filed by two members.

The following from the New York Star gives some idea of what advice should be given to young men:

Then go South, young man! Take your wife and your children with you. Plant your headquarters there among those cousins of ours in the South, whose hospitality is universally proverbial; whose welcome is extended warmly to all good people from every quarter.

This is a complimentary notice, for South Carolina offers inducements to all who wish to make their homes among us. We will welcome all good citizens from any State with open arms.

CONGRESSMAN REAGAN, of Texas, has introduced a bill in Congress providing for a constitutional amendment to be voted on by the people to strike out the constitutional prohibition against direct taxation. The bill provides for a direct taxation which, when levied by the United States government, shall be apportioned among the States on the basis of the value of property in the different States. The bill also provides that said taxes shall be collected by officers appointed by the States, and said taxes to be levied upon property under the State laws.

The Blair educational bill has been favorably reported to the Senate committee, substantially as it was passed last year, and it is probable that it will pass the Senate. Its friends are not so confident of its success in the House, owing to the fact that Col. Aiken, chairman of the committee on education, is opposed to the bill on constitutional grounds. It is also hardly probable that he will be able to attend the session of Congress regularly during the year, and his committee would hardly pass upon so important a bill in the absence of the chairman. The bill has gained friends in the House, and its friends will make a desperate fight for its passage.

Is the recent address of Col. Pearce, president of the Columbia Board of Trade, a very encouraging statement is made of the progress of the capital city in the past few years, but his statement of her future development and progress is even more encouraging. He predicts that in the next ten years Columbia will double her present population, her commercial interests will have so far advanced as to enable her to demand a custom-house on the Congaree, and, in short, the city will become a great manufacturing and educational center. Such a prediction, if only half fulfilled, would be a wonderful progress for any city. There is no reason which precludes this to us why at the expiration of the next decade Columbia cannot be marked as one of the progressive cities of the South.

The following statement shows the defeat of Thomas C. Platt a second time during the year:

Gen. James W. Husted, who was nominated on Monday as the Republican candidate for Speaker of the New York State Assembly, has been honored in the same way three times before. There was a very bitter fight between Gen. Husted and Mr. Erwin, the Speaker of the last Assembly. Gen. Husted was elected by a combination of all the old Republican factions and the withdrawal of Mr. Erwin just before the vote was taken. Gen. Husted's career is an illustration of the sudden changes in fortune marked out in American politics. Four years ago there was scarcely a more unpopular man in New York State than he. Politicians and newspapers to-day enthusiastic in his support were then denouncing him. At the State election of 1881 he was defeated for treasurer by a large majority, though every other man on his ticket was elected. His defeat was largely due to the enmity of Thomas C. Platt, who has been engineering the canvass of Mr. Erwin for Speaker. Then Mr. Platt triumphed. Now Gen. Husted's turn has come, and Platt is disappointed. It is his second defeat inside of a year.

The Committees Appointed.

Last week the committees to serve during the next session of the House were announced by the Speaker. The South Carolina delegation fared as well as they wished, and it is stated are well pleased with their assignments. Col. Aiken remains chairman of the education committee and second man on the agricultural committee. Mr. Dibble has been promoted to the chairmanship of the committee on public buildings and grounds and a place on committee of the election of President and Vice-President. Mr. Hemphill has been placed on the committee on coinage, weights, and measures, one of the most important committees of the House, and has also been placed on the committee on the District of Columbia. Mr. Dargan is given a place on the military committee, and also on expenditures in the interior department. Mr. Tillman has been placed on the committee of Pacific railways and on expenditures in the State department. Mr. Perry, the new member from this district, is said to have fared particularly well, as it is not often that a new member is given a two place committee—on war claims and territories. Representative Smith is a member of the committee on war claims.

It was confidently expected that South Carolina would be given a place on the committee on rivers and harbors, as Charleston is one of the leading harbors on the coast. The Speaker failed to do so—perhaps an oversight. It is to be hoped, however, that the wants of Charleston will be supplied in that direction. There is little use in showing us now why South Carolina should have had a place on the committee. The act has been done and it is hardly probable that it will be changed.

—The failures for last week were $36—the largest aggregate in any week since January, 1885.

—The Richmond Whig has been bought by a company, and will be published as a Democratic organ.

—A fire in Mobile, Ala., on Friday night destroyed $160,000 worth of property. Insurance at $10,000.

—The post-office at Jackson, La., was recently robbed of several dollars in money and a quantity of stamps.

—At Jackson, Miss., the Democratic caucus last week nominated Messrs. Walthall and George for re-election as United States Senators.

—Gen. Jubal A. Early is described as a man of venerable appearance, his long, white beard reaching to his waist, and his bent figure indicating the rapid advance of extreme old age.

It is pretty clear that the Irish question is still far from a satisfactory solution, notwithstanding the sanguine anticipations in which Mr. Parnell and his lieutenants have been indulging.

—The Legislature having made provision for the new jail in Lexington, and part of the necessary funds being already collected, the county commissioners will take early steps to erect the building.

—The Virginia House of Delegates has appointed a committee to inquire into the cost of building a new State House. It is proposed that this building shall be of granite, quarried in Virginia by convicts.

—A sixteen-year-old girl, highly esteemed in the Creole circles of New Orleans, sank down dead while waiting on Saturday evening at a reception in that city. She had previously been in apparently fine health.

—The Galveston News calls attention to the fact that while trunks to the city of "Bob" Trunks have plentifully come from all parts of the country, none has been dated from Beauvoir, Miss., the home of Jefferson Davis.

—The salary of the French President is $120,000 a year, with an additional $60,000 for household expenses, making a total of $180,000. M. Grevy, who has just been re-elected for a term of seven years, is now seventy-two years old.

—Ice men along the Kennebec and Penobscot Rivers are preparing to gather this winter's crop. If all the Maine houses now empty be filled, it is said the crop will be the largest ever gathered in that section—footing up far above 1,000,000 tons.

—A petition for the pardon of Sherman Walkup, colored, of Lancaster, was recently gotten up for presentation to the Governor, but on conferring with the superintendent of the penitentiary he was found that the convict had been released by death.

—A cave-in occurred at Boston Run near Mahoning city, Pa., last week, and a block of houses went down out of sight. The families living in the houses made a narrow escape. At last accounts the surface was still caving, and five more blocks were expected to go down.

—Friday last, January 8, was "Creole Day" at the New Orleans Exposition. The ceremonies of the day included every thing representative of the Creoles, speeches by prominent Creole gentlemen, and vocal and instrumental music by the best Creole musicians.

—Miss Sarah Althea Hill, plaintiff in the celebrated Sharon divorce case, was married last Thursday morning to David T. Terry, ex-Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of California, and Miss Hill's leading counsel. Mr. Terry is known in connection with his duel with Senator Broderick, in which the latter was killed.

—In the cattle convention to be held this month at Denver, Colorado, the basis of representation requires that a member must own 50,000 head of cattle to secure a seat. This occasion's great dissatisfaction among the cattle men with limited constitutions, who are excluded every thing representative of the Creoles, speeches by prominent Creole gentlemen, and vocal and instrumental music by the best Creole musicians.

—A singular suit has been decided by a San Francisco justice. The plaintiff, Oscar Schlan, sued to recover $299 damages for contracting the "barber's itch" at the shaving saloon of Solomon Cohen. After hearing the testimony, Justice Burke said it was doubtful whether the disease was contracted at Cohen's place, and he gave him a verdict.

—A Richmond, Maine, the sudden cold has caused the ice to jam and the Kennebec River is full of ice from five to ten feet thick for from seven to ten miles. There are thirteen ice houses there with a capacity of 550,000 tons, and thousands of laboring men dependent upon the ice industries for employment are waiting anxiously for the jam to be broken.

A Civil Service Clerk Demoted.

Oliver P. Burger of Quincy, Illinois, who was appointed to a thousand dollar clerkship in the registry division of the Postoffice Department last September, under the civil service rules, was summarily dismissed from the service by the Postmaster General last week. Soon after coming into his new position Burger prepared a postal circular, which he has been industriously distributing in all sections of the country, principally among school teachers, in which he sets forth that the government offers employment at a remunerative salary to those who are qualified to enter its service. The postal circular concludes as follows: "A pamphlet has been carefully prepared by the government, giving full instructions and useful suggestions to those who desire to stand an examination, and will be sent by return mail to any address on receipt of fifty cents in postage stamps."

The department officials say that the statements contained in the circular are purposely and grossly misleading as to the clerical needs of the government and are made for the sole purpose of obtaining purchasers for his pamphlet.

—Many suffering people drag themselves about with failing strength, feeling that they are steadily sinking into the grave, when by using Parker's Tonic they would find a cure commencing with the first dose, and vitality and strength surely coming back to them.
